

Sebastian Stahl

School: San Jose State
Major: Business Finance
Entering: Senior year
Internship: Finance and Accounting

Sebastian's Hobbies:
"I like to watch sports, anything that is on or in season. I also like going to the beach."

What interests you about your particular major or industry?

I have always been interested in money, and how it moves amongst/within companies. When I started taking classes on finance, I realized that I really enjoyed looking at cash flow in particular.

Was your first field visit any different than you had expected?

It was everything that I had expected, but it was really cool to see how close to home the work being done was. I have probably seen multiple Charge work sites before without knowing that they were being done by Charge.

What drew you to accept an internship from Charge?

When I initially interviewed with Charge, everyone seemed welcoming.

The company culture seemed like one I wanted to be a part of. Additionally, I liked that Charge has their interns work in a hybrid setting for the summer. I prefer to be able to see some of the people I work with in person as opposed to being fully remote.

What Charge Internship project are you most excited about?

I am most excited about the intern project we are working on as a team. Currently, I am finding data on various utility companies in the West Coast, so we can research Charge's possibilities to expand further as a whole.

What skill(s) do you hope to refine during your internship at Charge?

I hope to refine my communication skills, financial analysis skills, and Excel skills.
